HELD TO AWAIT THE GRAND JURY ACTION

J. C. Evans was Before the Local Court Yesterday Afternoon.

The hearing of J. C. Evans, a colored barber, charged with appropriating to his own use a diamond ring which had been left with him as security for a loan of $125, occupied the attention of the local court of justice yesterday afternoon. The matter attracted as legal talent Assistant District Attorney Leyman and Attorney Struckmeyer of Phoenix, who defended Evans.

J. A. Fauver, who claims to be the owner of the ring and who secured the loan of $125 on it, admitted on the stand that his recollection of the events of the episode were more or less hazy as the result of excessive drinking the night before. His evidence, however, brought out the fact that he had twice since then offered to redeem the property from Evans but on neither occasion did the barber have the ring. Jeweler Friedman of Phoenix was also placed on the stand but the defense conceded the fact that Evans had sold the ring to the jeweler for $50. The bill of sale given the jeweler by Evans as well as the ring, were both held as evidence and without argument on either side the evidence was declared by the justice sufficient to warrant him holding the barber to the grand jury. His bond is fixed at $300, an amount which friends of Evans say he will have no difficulty in raising.

BIG BUSINESS FROM A SMALL BEGINNING

The Splendid Growth of One of Tempe's Business Firms.

The Republican takes pleasure this morning in presenting herewith a cut of the flash light photograph taken of Hyder Bros. store a short time ago upon the occasion of their millinery opening as well as the photographs of the two proprietors. There has been a little delay in having this plate engraved. It was expected to have the view printed very shortly after the picture was taken.

Hyder Bros. store is one of the many Tempe firms that started from a small beginning but from that small beginning advanced, branched out and grew until today there is not a better known firm on this side of the river. Much of the success of Hyder Bros. institution as it is today is the result of the hard work, progressive management and square dealing on the part of the two proprietors. The Republican, too, flatters itself that it has had a hand in the success of this establishment for Hyder Bros. have been one of the most extensive advertisers in The Republican and the splendid reputation of the firm has been spread broadcast through the country through the medium of this paper.

Not only are Hyder Bros. good advertisers for themselves and their business but they are likewise good advertisers for the town. The view above printed will be reproduced in different trade journals throughout the country and in that manner many people who know little of this section will be given an idea of the little city boasts.

RIVER FORDABLE.

Salt River is again fordable at this place but any one crossing in a medium low rig should prepare to stand on the seat or get wet feet. Several rigs crossed yesterday without difficulty and within a few days the stream will probably be down to normal again.

Of Lou J. Beauchamp, the lecturer, the Columbian Lyceum Bureau has the following: "For any man or any bureau to write an 'introduction' to Lou J. Beauchamp, seems like an impertinence. No one on earth can do him justice in cold type—and, he is so well known from one end to the other of this broad country that no introduction is necessary. We present the following paragraphs, not as an 'introduction' but rather as an 'appreciation' of Lou J. Beauchamp, the man, and of the inspiration of the message he brings."

When a tender influence stole into the heart of Lou Beauchamp and turned his footsteps into the paths of light, a myriad of messages of mirth and happiness were born in his mind—messages which glowed with the awakened love of humanity in his own soul and scintillated with the sunshine of a newly inspired genius. Beauchamp is a verbal cyclone, with a laugh and a cry in every minute. He is a great minister of the Gospel of Sunshine, and thousands of listeners have first seen the Light through his ministrations. He is the most beloved of all the lyceum sojourners, because he has been his own best disciple in the Gospel of Love. He is doubly a philosopher—he has solved the problem of the happy life and also the more difficult equation

Beauchamp is a great physician of the School of Good Cheer. The unusual sight of an elephant in the Calcutta streets was observed the other day. He has been employed by one company for more than fifteen years, and during that time his principal duty has been to buy theater tickets for persons not wanting to stand in line. He has bought for others at least $20,000 worth of theater tickets, but has never been inside of a theater himself.
